QUALIFICATION STANDARDS FOR MEAT ACCEPTANCE SPECIALISTS AND CHICAGO MERCANTILE EXCHANGE (CME) LIVESTOCK CLERKS

PURPOSE

This Procedure defines qualification requirements for meat acceptance specialists and Chicago Mercantile Exchange (CME) livestock clerks.

SCOPE

Selection of personnel is a significant factor in providing high quality service. Before prospective employees are selected for employment to certify meat or meat products for the Quality Assessment Division (QAD), they must meet the general qualifications outlined in this Procedure.

Qualifications

- A. Requirements for a GS-3 Meat Acceptance Specialist
 - 1. Applicants must have one year of progressively responsible experience equivalent in level of difficulty and responsibility to the GS-2 level in the Federal service. Experience must demonstrate the ability to communicate effectively, verbally and in writing. Such experience may have been gained in cutting, wrapping, and weighing meat in a retail outlet; meat inspection sanitation, kill floor inspection, or disease eradication; or office manager, accountant, bookkeeper, or general clerk.
 - 2. Education may be substituted for experience. Successful completion of 30 semester hours or the equivalent at an accredited college or university meets the minimum qualifications.
- B. Requirements for a GS-4 Meat Acceptance Specialist
 - 1. Applicants must have two years of progressively responsible experience equivalent in level of difficulty and responsibility to the GS-3 level in the Federal service. Experience must demonstrate the ability to communicate effectively, verbally and in writing. Such experience may have been gained in cutting, wrapping, and weighing meat in a retail outlet; meat inspection sanitation, kill floor inspection, or disease eradication. General clerical experience (typing, filing, routine processing, or other non-specialized repetitive tasks) is not creditable.
 - 2. Education may be substituted for experience. An associate's degree from an accredited college or university meets the minimum qualifications.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) prohibits discrimination in all its programs and activities on the basis of race, color, national origin, gender, religion, age, disability, sexual orientation, marital or family status, political beliefs, parental status, or protected genetic information. (Not all prohibited bases apply to all programs.) Persons with disabilities who require alternative means for communication of program information (Braille, large print, audiotape, etc.) should contact USDA's TARGET Center at 202-720-2600 (voice and TDD). To file a complaint of discrimination, write USDA, Director, Office of Civil Rights, Room 326-W, Whitten Building, 14th and Independence Avenue, SW., Washington, DC 20250-9410 or call 202-720-5964 (voice and TDD). USDA is an equal opportunity provider and employer.

C. Requirements for a GS-5 Meat Acceptance Specialist

- 1. Applicants must have three years of progressively responsible experience equivalent in level of difficulty and responsibility to the GS-4 level in the Federal service. Experience must demonstrate the ability to (1) analyze problems to identify significant factors, gather pertinent data, and recognize solutions; (2) plan and organize work; and (3) communicate effectively, verbally and in writing. Such experience must have been gained in quality assurance, food processing, farming/ranching, technical, administrative work, etc. Experience must provide evidence of the knowledge, skills, and abilities necessary to perform the duties of the position, and show decision making responsibilities. General clerical experience (typing, filing, routine processing, or other nonspecialized repetitive tasks) is not creditable.
- 2. Education may be substituted for experience. A bachelor's degree from an accredited college or university meets the minimum qualifications.

D. Requirements for a GS-6 Meat Acceptance Specialist

- 1. Applicants must have four years of progressively responsible experience equivalent in level of difficulty and responsibility to the GS-5 level in the Federal service. Experience must demonstrate the ability to (1) analyze problems to identify significant factors, gather pertinent data, and recognize solutions; (2) plan and organize work; and (3) communicate effectively, verbally and in writing. Such experience must have been gained in meat quality assurance or meat processing. Experience must provide evidence of the knowledge, skills, and abilities necessary to perform the duties of the position, and show decision making responsibilities.
- 2. Education may be substituted for experience. A bachelor's degree in animal science, meat science, food science, or a closely related degree from an accredited college or university plus an additional year of experience equivalent to the GS-5 level meets the minimum qualifications.

E. Requirements for a GS-7 Meat Acceptance Specialist

- 1. Applicants must have one year of specialized experience equivalent in difficulty to the GS-6 level. Specialized experience is gained in meat management, production, quality control, inspection (if it involves quality determination), research, or receiving of meat which involves making quality determinations using an applicable specification such as Institutional Meat Purchase Specification or equivalent. Experience may have been gained in chain stores, the military, or manufacturing. Experience as a meat cutter is not creditable.
- 2. Education may substitute for experience. One year of college-graduate-level education from an accredited college or university in agriculture or another related field of study or a bachelor's degree in animal, food, or meat science with superior academic achievement (cumulative GPA 3.0 or higher) is fully qualifying for the GS-7 level.

- F. Requirements for a GS-3 CME Livestock Clerk
 - 1. Applicants must have one year of progressively responsible experience equivalent in level of difficulty and responsibility to the GS-2 level in the Federal service. Experience must demonstrate the ability to communicate effectively, verbally and in writing. Such experience may have been gained as a farmer, rancher, veterinarian's assistant, feedlot laborer, auction-barn livestock handler, or kill-floor meat inspector. Office manager, accountant, bookkeeper, and general clerk experience is not creditable.
 - 2. Education may substitute for experience. Successful completion of 30 semester hours or the equivalent at an accredited college or university meets the minimum qualifications.
- G. Basis of Level Determination

No written tests are required. Candidates will be rated based on an evaluation of education/experience as provided in the application. The Meat Acceptance Specialist or CME Livestock Clerk Rating Plans will be used to rate the applicant.

H. Physical Abilities

Applicants must be physically able to perform certification duties. They also must have good, long-range vision, good depth perception, the ability to read printed material the size of typewritten characters without strain, and the ability to differentiate between colors.

I. Comprehension and Analytical Abilities

Applicants must have the ability to read and comprehend contracts, specifications, regulations, and instructional material and perform basic arithmetic computations.

J. Technical Abilities

Qualifying applicants must successfully complete the applicable training as identified in QAD 209 Procedure Service Limitations and Training Required to Perform Work as a Meat Acceptance Specialist or Chicago Mercantile Exchange (CME) Livestock Clerk.

K. Driver's License

If the position involves operating a motor vehicle, the applicant is required to have or must obtain a driver's license in his/her state of residence prior to performing work involving travel.

- L. Conduct Standards
 - 1. Employees are prohibited from performing grading, inspection, regulatory, or other official duties at any establishment:
 - a) Where a close relative is employed.
 - b) Where the employee's or a close relative's agricultural commodity is graded, inspected, stored, etc.
 - c) In which the employee or a close relative has a financial interest. This prohibition does not include any holding in a widely held mutual fund or
